

SOLDIERS READY TO MOVE TO GALVESTON

Four Thousand Troops Have Been Ordered to Sea Port for Emergency

ORDER PRECAUTIONARY
Officials Believe That Action is Justified by Existing Mexican Situation

FOUR TRANSPORTS ARE READY

WASHINGTON, FEB. 22.—About 4,000 soldiers were ordered today to Galveston, Texas, and vicinity, the nearest seaport adapted to the embarkation of troops for Mexico. They are not under orders to proceed to Mexico, and it is the expectation and the hope of the administration that it will not be necessary to issue orders for such a movement. The situation in that country, however, is regarded as sufficient to warrant the concentration of a force strong enough to take possession of a seaport, and open the way for an invasion of the country. It will be for President Woodrow Wilson to determine whether such an expedition shall be dispatched, although of course it is assumed that he first will seek the guidance of congress. Through trusted agents, though not directly, the president-elect is understood to have expressed his interests in the situation and has placed himself in a position to acquire specific knowledge as to all the details before he comes to Washington March 3rd.

Ready for Emergency.

Up to today the war department officials had contented themselves with the issue of preliminary orders to two brigades of troops, the first brigade, first division, in New York state and the fifth brigade, second division, in the middle west. In the ordinary course, it would require at least eight days and perhaps longer, to gather these divisions at one of the gulf ports ready for embarkation.

Will Save Eight Days.

It has been decided that this is a greater period of time than can properly be elated before despatching troops to Mexico if a great emergency should arise. Therefore, it was with the purpose of saving this time that orders were issued today for the entrainment of the entire fifth brigade, second division for Galveston, the troops being under command of Brigade General Frederick A. Smith and comprising the fourth, seventh, nineteenth and twenty-eighth regiments of infantry, company D, second battalion of engineers; field hospital No. 3, ambulance corps No. 3, and one signal corps company from Fort Leavenworth. A subsequent order attached to this brigade, three army pack trains, each of sixty mules, one from Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., one from Fort Robinson, Neb., and one from the presidio of San Francisco.

Cavalry Force Needed.

Also to supply a sufficient force of cavalry to protect the flanks, and reconnoiter for the infantry, an order was despatched to Major General Carter at Chicago to send to Galveston the fourth, or mountain battery of field artillery, commanded by Colonel Alexander B. Dyer, stationed at Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming. Orders also were issued to General Carter to prepare the fourth brigade, second division for transportation to Galveston, but not to despatch them. This comprises the 23rd, 26th and 27th regiments of infantry commanded by Brigadier General Ramsey D. Potts. Meanwhile the first brigade, first division comprising the third, fifth and twenty-ninth regiments of infantry, commanded by Brigadier General Marion P. Muns with headquarters at Albany, N. Y., is also held under preparatory orders.

Four Transports Ready.

The army transports Sumner, Kilpatrick and McClellan, now enroute from Newport News for Galveston, where they are due about Tuesday next will be joined at that port by the army transport Meade as soon as that vessel has discharged at Guantanamo the 1,200 marines she embarked at Philadelphia early in the week. This is believed to afford ample transportation facilities at least for the fifth brigade.

Action is Justified.

This reports probably all the preparations that will be undertaken in the closing days of the present administration to meet any emergency in the Mexican situation. Considerable expense is involved in today's orders, mainly under the head of transportation charges but the officials believe that this is justified by existing conditions. It is believed, too, that the moral effect probably to be produced upon the extreme elements in Mexico by a demonstration of a disposition of the United States to deal firmly with any relapse into semi-barbarism in the treatment of President Madero and his adherents, will prove economical in the end as obviating the necessity for an actual invasion of the country.

CITY IS DONNING INAUGURAL ATTIRE

WASHINGTON IS ALREADY ASSUMING A GAY APPEARANCE

Down Town Buildings and Those Along the Line of March Decorated With National and Inaugural Colors—Receiving Stands Finished Tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, FEB. 22.—Although the inauguration of President-elect Woodrow Wilson is still ten days away the city already is assuming a gay appearance.

Buildings in the downtown section and along the line of march have been decorated with the national colors as well as white and green, the official inaugural color scheme. Nearly all public buildings have received a dress of bunting and flags.

Beginning Monday the finishing touches will be put on all reviewing stands. The president's stand, the central feature of the court of honor in front of the white house, practically is completed. During the coming week the last meetings of the various sub-committees of the inaugural committee will be held to go over the completed plans for the various features of the inauguration. Then will follow the last meeting of the general committee at which the various committee heads will make their final report to Chairman Eustis and receive final instructions to successfully carry out the plan as prepared in every detail.

Millions of Americans will see this year the first time moving pictures of the actual administration of the oath to the president of the United States. The strict rules which have heretofore limited decoration to the "battery stand" facing the inaugural platform, to photographers representing large newspapers have been suspended by the congressional committee and an addition built at each end of the platform to accommodate operators from eight motion picture concerns. The concession to the moving pictures was made on recommendation of Superintendent James D. Preston of the senate press gallery, after a conference with members of the committee.

SAN FRANCISCO WINS LONG FIGHT

Golden Gate City May Use Hetch Hetchy Valley as a Reservoir Site.

Washington, Feb. 22.—San Francisco's protracted fight for use of the Hetch Hetchy valley in Yosemite National park as a reservoir site was won by the city today, as far as the army advisory board on which Secretary Fisher's decision will be based, is concerned. If the board declares that the Hetch Hetchy project is $20,000,000 cheaper than any other feasible project for furnishing an adequate supply of water to the city.

The water situation that will confront the communities around San Francisco bay if the plan is adopted by Secretary Fisher as is probable within a week, is recapitulated by the army advisory board as follows: Purchase of Spring Valley Water company, $35,000,000 to $40,000,000.

Further development of this company's system to about half the extent proposed by the company $10,000,000.

Purchase of water systems of communities outside of San Francisco, no estimate made.

Construction of Toulumne system as proposed by San Francisco to extend over about 50 years $77,000,000.

Against these expenditures there will be developed 115,000 horsepower, having an estimated capitalized net value of $46,000,000.

General Carter Busy.

Immediately upon the receipt of the war department's orders General Carter in command of the central department of the army with headquarters in Chicago issued instructions selecting company E, of the engineers as part of the expeditionary force to go to Galveston, Texas.

At Fort D. A. Russell.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Feb. 22.—Orders were received this afternoon by Col. Dyer, commanding Fort D. A. Russell to despatch at once for Texas City, Texas, the fourth field artillery under command of Colonel Berry. It is thought the regiment can be entrained by early tomorrow.

Fifth Brigade Ready.

Omaha, Feb. 22.—General F. A. Smith, received orders this afternoon for the movement of the fifth brigade to Galveston. He said the troops would be ready to entrain in 12 hours and railroad officials said from four to seventy hours would be required for special trains to be prepared and ready the present stations with the troops.

Will Study Situations.

President-elect Wilson is to familiarize himself with the status of the Mexican situation and the Panama canal negotiations with Great Britain at a conference at which some of President Taft's cabinet at a meeting arranged for next week. It was said today that the president-elect had recently kept in touch with both situations through third persons, but in view of the active situation he will be called upon to face when he takes office he had determined to inform himself directly by consultation with the cabinet members having important subjects in charge.

General Deficiency Bill.

Work was begun to day by the house appropriations committee on the general deficiency bill, the last appropriation measure of this session and which will probably be the largest ever passed. It will total about $25,000,000 of which $15,000,000 is made necessary by the Sherman bill.

WASHINGTON, FEB. 22.—Centering their efforts upon cutting half the appropriation for two battleships, opponents of a big naval assault upon the annual naval appropriation bill. When the House adjourned tonight, after general debate on the measure had been in progress for six hours, the opposing forces compromised on a two-hour limit for continuation of the debate Monday. It was practically conceded that the bill carrying $146,618,364 would go through without change except in the construction section.

For Only One Battleship.

Leaders among the economy advocates insisted that only one battleship would be provided for, but the Progressive naval policy men claimed to have enough votes to retain provision for two.

Representative Padgett of Tennessee, chairman of the naval committee, who voted against two battleships in the committee; Representative Foss of Illinois, Representative Hobson of Alabama and Representative Loud of Michigan and Bates of Pennsylvania spoke for the bill.

Representatives Witherspoon of Mississippi and Dies of Texas made lengthy speeches against it.

Defenses Above Politics.

Representative Foss appealed to both sides of the house to vote for the bill, declaring that national honor and national defense were above politics.

The Panama canal, he said, would increase one hundred-fold, the causes for international difficulties and our foreign policy could be no stronger than our navy.

Six a Year Are Needed.

Representative Hobson declared that six battleships a year were needed to keep the United States in second place among naval powers and that two a year were essential to enable the country to maintain a serviceable navy. He said individual provision for defense by each nation was the only guarantee of peace, that "there is no court to determine what is international law and in the true sense there is no such thing as international law."

Will Insist on Reduction.

Economy Democrats in the house declared today that they were peacefully disposed toward the majority of the naval affairs committee though insistent on a reduction in the bill. Representative Kitchin of North Carolina, active in the economy program, opposed a suggestion that the re-organization of the naval committee be taken up at a caucus of the house Democrats. Kitchin said it was not a matter with which he conference had anything to do.

GOV. HADLEY SPEAKS BEFORE UNION LEAGUE

MAKES ADDRESS AT WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Declares Utterances of Washington and Lincoln Must Be Interpreted As Applied to the Problems and Conditions of Their Day and Not Ours.

CHICAGO, FEB. 22.—"Has money become the only means to happiness and are the satisfactions of public service, honestly and efficiently performed, the gratitude of the people for conscientious performances of public duty, the strong devotion and enthusiastic approval incident to the public life to be held for naught if the desirability of wealth in the opposite balance," said former Governor Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri in speaking to day, at the Geo. Washington birthday exercises held at the Auditorium under the auspices of the Union League Club.

"If to day the office no longer calls the man, is that a reason why our public service should not be filled with men of first ability and energy? Has our spirit of commercialism become so prevalent and so deep seated that the honors and satisfactions of public office no longer are in the balance as against money and its power?

"This lesson that can be drawn from the life and public service of George Washington is one that perhaps has been more needed in recent years than at the present day. For we are now living in a period in which there is a more active interest upon the part of the individual citizen in the performance of the duties of citizenship and a more prompt acceptance upon the part of men of substance and capacity of the obligations of public life than we have ever known before outside our two heroic periods, the period of the revolution and the period of the Civil War.

"We are living to day in transition period of American politics which is witnessing an aggressive questioning and challenging of our system of jurisprudence, of industry, of government and even of society itself. In this nation-wide controversy as to whether it is necessary that we should change that system and form of government that has come down to us from the fathers, we hear much as to what Washington thought and as to what Lincoln thought of our present system of government and the dangers that would probably confront us.

"The truth is that the utterances of George Washington, as well as those of Abraham Lincoln, with reference to the dangers that are likely to confront us, must be considered from the standpoint of their times and not ours; they must be interpreted as applied to the problems and conditions of their day and not ours."

CANNON AND OTHERS SPEAK BEFORE NATIONAL PRESS CLUB

"Lame Duck" Congressmen Tell How It Feels to "Go Back Home."

Washington, Feb. 22.—"Uncle Joe Casson and ten other "lame duck" congressmen, three of them senators, who have been recalled to private life, told the National Press Club today how it feels to "go back home."

John T. Suter of the Chicago Record-Herald, recently elected president of the club, called upon G. A. Lyon of the Washington Star, whom he described as a "National Press club lame duck," to introduce C. K. Berryman, who acted as "official duck chaser." Mr. Berryman tapped on a large gong on each occasion when "the gentleman's time had expired."

None of the speakers present had served less than six years in the national congress, while in the case of the "chief quacker," Mr. Cannon, as he was called by the master of ceremonies, a period of 38 years covers his length of service in the house.

The other "lame ducks" were Senators Curtis, Brown and Dixon and Representatives Dalzell, Crumpacker, Nye, Taylor of Ohio, Rodenbough, McCall and Howland.

For Law Enforcement.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon declared there had been too much effort to make legislation to fit the abnormal man. The abnormal he remarked was "the simple minded man whom we put in an asylum."

"Men have been trying," he said, "to re-organize society and to cure everything by legislation and every little enforcement of law we have."

The former speaker declared himself an optimist and "with my face to the setting sun, I have faith and hope."

FOUND DEAD IN HOTEL.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 22.—E. V. Schindler, a salesman for a Chicago packing house, who lived at 38th street and Lake avenue, Chicago, was found dead in a hotel here today. Death was accidental, it is thought.

The bill will be reorted early next week.

Department of Labor.

The senate to day agreed to vote next Tuesday on the bill to create a department of labor, which would provide another cabinet officer. The measure passed the house last summer and has been pending on the senate calendar for months.

"BARGAINS"

The wise buyer will not be caught by an adroitly worded advertisement offering flour at bargain. Bargain in flour are as scarce as white black bird. "Pure" high grade flour is as staple as silver dollars. There is rarely a fluctuation of over more than a cent a bushel in wheat in any one day. If flour is offered for a greater difference it will be grounds for suspicion. The buyer of alleged "bargains" gets just what he pays for, but it will not be a bargain because it will not be made from sound wheat.

Our "White Lily flour" is absolutely "pure" and "high grade" made from sound wheat and not a lower grade flour artificially treated or bleached to bring it up to standard. It is absolutely pure. Do not permit any one to offer you an imitation or substitute for White Lily Flour at a so called "Bargain".

ENTERTAINS ROUND TABLE.

Miss Isabel Baldwin Gives Interesting Paper at Meeting Saturday Afternoon.

The Domestic Science Round Table met Saturday afternoon with Miss Isabel C. Baldwin, director of home economics at the high school, the domestic science department of that institution Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with a large attendance. The president, Miss Clara Cobb, expressed the great pleasure for the privilege of the club in being able to meet with a local girl, one who had studied at the Woman's college, later supplementing this instruction with study at the Columbia university in New York and after experience in teaching in the east, returning to Jacksonville and to take up work in the high school.

Miss Baldwin took as a subject, "Cold Desserts," and in an interesting and convincing manner showed the ladies how an infinite variety of delicious desserts can be made with custard and gelatine as foundations. Miss Baldwin discussed in an able manner food values and emphasized the importance of every housewife knowing underlying principles which are necessary to successful results in making all desserts. While Miss Baldwin was presenting her subject six young ladies skillfully prepared the following desserts: Snow pudding with custard sauce, baked custard, caramel pudding, marshmallow teas and Spanish cream. The ladies present, after sampling the desserts, offered a vote of thanks to Miss Baldwin and the young ladies who so ably assisted in the afternoon's profitable entertainment.

Officers to serve during the next quarter were:

President—Dr. George Stacy.
Vice-president—Dr. A. R. Gregory.
Secretary—Dr. C. E. Cole, re-elected.

LARGE CLASS INITIATION.

Twenty-Four Members to Be Added to Urana Lodge No. 243.

Monday night the splendid degree staff of Urana Lodge No. 243, will initiate their second large class of twenty-four candidates this year. Headed by their enthusiastic chairman, Carl Weber, the booster committee, consisting of the entire lodge started their 1913 campaign for a 400 membership or more with a class of 17 in January, followed up by 24 this month and a resolution to beat that in March will easily place them on the safe side of that number.

The refreshments committee for Monday night consisting of J. A. Crim, Arthur Conlee and William H. Anderson has promised a good lunch after the work and a number of visitors from Urana Lodge No. 4 and out of town lodges are expected to be present.

Mrs. J. M. Beecup will open a millinery parlor at 408 East State street opposite the Woman's College. She asks for your patronage. Watch for the opening announcement.

ENTERTAINED FRIENDS.

Miss Sadie Lott entertained a company of friends at her home 821 North Main street, Friday evening. Music and games were the diversions of the evening and the gentlemen's prize was won by Louis Lurig and the ladies prize by Miss Esther Robinson. The consolation prizes were won by Misses Cecil Mason and Paul Lurig. Dainty refreshments were served.

BIRTHDAY OF WASHINGTON

ILLINOIS COLLEGE HONORS MEMORY OF FIRST PRESIDENT.

Following Splendid Banquet Lists of Toasts is Given Including an Address by Hon. Lawrence Y. Sherman of Springfield.

The annual Illinois college Washington's birthday banquet was held at the college gymnasium, Saturday evening at 6:30. With a program of excellent addresses, and preceded as it was throughout by a spirit of patriotism and college loyalty, the banquet was among the most successful celebrations of its kind in recent years. Besides the addresses by Judge Lawrence Y. Sherman and Judge F. E. Baldwin, there were talks by representatives of the student body, Roscoe G. Linder, Ellis Spray and Miss Maude Johnson. The position of toastmaster was filled in his best manner by Mr. Horace H. Bancroft.

A pleasing innovation this year the singing of the college songs, sung by the guests in unison accompanied by Reynold's orchestra. Vickery and Merrigan, the caterers of the evening, served an excellent four course menu. The idea of patriotism was carried out in the decorations. The walls were draped with large flags, smaller flags were displayed to advantage throughout the room, and a banner at the north side of the room bearing the name of Washington worked in the college colors, blue and white, completed the effect. The committee in charge consisted of Sherman Leavitt, chairman, Miss Isabel Smith, Coach W. T. Harmon, and Miss Elizabeth Oldfield, of the faculty and Miss Marion Taylor, and Martha Hayden, Paul Furr and Morrison Worthington, of the students.

The guests of honor seated at the speakers table were, to the right of the toastmaster—Mrs. C. H. Rammelkamp, Judge L. Y. Sherman, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Adams, Dr. Grace Dewey, Dr. Hayden, Miss Maude Johnson, Ellis Spray, Judge C. A. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Capps, Arthur Fairbank, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Leavitt, and Mrs. Jeanette Garrison. On the toastmaster's left were seated Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp, Judge and Mrs. F. E. Baldwin and T. J. Pitner, A. T. Capps, Miss Eleanor Capps, Roscoe Linder, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Russell, S. R. Capps, Miss Rachel Jerauld, Wm. E. Krich, Miss Louise Capps, Ralph Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Heiml, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Worthington.

The company was treated to two songs by the recently organized Illinois College Glee club, "The Winter Song," Bullard, and "O Ye Gallant Sailors," Mazy. This was the second public appearance of the club, which is being trained by William J. Kirby. The members are: Ray Bracewell, Fred W. Bray, Franklin M. Butler, Dean Cochran, Reuben Cohn, Paul M. Furr, S. O. Welday, Clarence Goveia, Warren E. Hall, Durrell Hatfield, Karl Hill, Trixie Justus, Alva Taylor, Roscoe Linder, Stewart Russel, Fred Stewart and Orville White.

The invocation was given by Dr. F. S. Hayden and the speech presenting Mr. Bancroft, the toastmaster, was made by President Rammelkamp. Judge F. E. Baldwin took for his subject, "The Americanism of Washington."

Address on Americanism.

"Americanism," Mr. Baldwin said, "cannot be defined by reference only to qualities of mentality or intellect. True Americanism lies deeper. It is quality of the soul and heart. Of all men, Washington was among the most warm hearted. Surrounded by scorn and insult of those who should have been his friends, maligned and plotted against by his own generals, he showed the spirit of warmest sympathy and broadest magnanimity. He rose above the petty bickerings of his would-be depositories of the Conway Cabal. Washington's Americanism was manifest always in his subjection of self to the common good. He chose his cabinet not on grounds of personal favoritism, but from the standpoint of ability alone. The long weeks of hardship and starvation at Valley Forge he bore with a fortitude that was remarkable. So it was all through his life, whether dealing with some self-seeking, faithless Arnold or Lee or expending his private means for public welfare, his was the spirit of true Americanism, a spirit which rose above self and considered first his duties to his countrymen."

After everyone had joined in singing "Hail to Illinois," Mr. Bancroft called upon the speakers chosen to represent the student body.

Student Speakers.

Roscoe Linder of the Senior class, the student speaker, was chosen to represent Phi Alpha. His subject was: "Washington the World Character." We admire Washington for his personal bravery, his military power, his greatness and nobleness of heart, and his cosmopolitan and Catholic mind. Although he could not have foreseen our country in its present development, he undoubtedly had a vision broader than his fellows of the United States as a power among the countries of the world.

Maude Johnson of the Junior class in her talk on "How Martha Helped George," described Martha Washington as the highest type of true helpmeet. By sharing nobly as she did the hardships which her husband and her country suffered she won the title of the "Blessed Lady Washington." Indeed, "to see her was to love her."

The student speaker who represented Sigma Pi society, Ellis Spray, spoke on "Washington as a Young Man." The traits that distinguish the world's great men are usually qualities developed in early youth. When almost a boy, Washington began to assume the responsibilities of a man. As a student he was painstaking and accurate. From the first he was renowned for personal bravery. He was a military commander at nineteen. We revere Washington for his truthfulness and integrity and above all for the conscientious way he assumed every responsibility placed upon him.

Address of Judge Sherman.

Mr. Bancroft next introduced Judge Lawrence Y. Sherman, who spoke on "Washington and the Constitution." He said in part:

"Washington unlike those who followed him, served his country without pay. He refused a third term because he wished to establish a precedent. He felt instinctively that in a republic like ours, it is dangerous for one man to hold power too long.

"Washington's greatest service was his work in the constitutional convention. Seated among that distinguished group of men through long weeks of alternate hope and doubt, he labored hard to produce harmony. His keen insight saw disaster impending the loose bound confederation were not a strong responsible central authority created.

"The constitution is a document somewhat unpopular nowadays it seems. A famous lawyer described it as a 'collection of obstacles.' It is full of barriers and I'm glad of it.

"Only recently we almost witnessed a shameful violation of this right of the people. If the Indianapolis editor who was threatened with transportation to the national capital for trial had been thus illegally taken away from his own locality it would have been a violation of a personal right guaranteed in every Anglo Saxon declaration of principles from Magna Charta running from John I., June 15, 1215 on down.

Compliments Judiciary.

Some present date demagogues would render insecure the position of the judge. The business of the judge is to interpret the law as he finds it. From the time of Washington on down I know of no higher type of men, no men more hard-working and patriotic than the judges. When we can no longer trust our judges, what can we expect of the people. To the infamous doctrine of the recall of judges, I am unalterably opposed. I will raise my voice against it, vote against it, go into private life on account of it and dissent from it in every way.

I can take each one of these guarantees of principle which Washington and his fellows and put into the constitution and trace it back from two to seven centuries. Each one was turned up in tears and blood to be treasured up and handed down to us. Is it any wonder that I stand up with Washington for the constitution. Do you wonder that I swear to defend to the last this document of which I am the sworn-defender? Are you surprised to know that

BOXERS NOT CLEVER AS WERE OLD TIMERS

QUALITY OF BOXERS HAS DEGENERATED IN RECENT YEARS, SAYS CORBETT.

Followers of Boxing Are Said to be Largely to Blame For This Condition of Affairs—McFarland Named as Most Skillful Modern Exponent of the Science.

(By James J. Corbett)
Former Heavy-weight Champion of the World

Written for the Jacksonville Journal
Of late considerable newspaper space has been devoted to a revival of the much argued question, "Is boxing keeping pace in the matter of improvement with progress in other lines of sport?" The older writers as a rule contend that the sport from a scientific standpoint has deteriorated, while the younger element argues the performances of modern exponents of the art of hit-stop and get away do not suffer in comparison with the achievements of the stars of former days. Recently I have received several letters with requests for a public expression of my opinion on the subject.

I hope I will not be put down as a prejudiced old-timer when I say that in my opinion the quality of boxers has deteriorated in recent years. In point of science and skill the stars of a decade or two ago, this applies to every class or division, excelled present day boxers.

For this condition of affairs the followers of boxing are to blame to a great extent. The public taste has deteriorated, and along with it the class of boxing exhibition. The boxer brings into play the skill and science with which nature has endowed him and tuition has developed it given scant encouragement and support by the present day fight fans.

The average modern contest resolves into a question of which boxer lands the first convincing wallop. Wild swings and lunges are the order of the day. Let a contestant attempt to introduce a bit of feinting, ducking or footwork, or other clever stunts, and the crowd howls for the "rough stuff". This does not tend to encourage boxers or to improve the character of the sport.

There are a few really good boxers in the game at present, but I am sorry to say they are in the minority. Packey McFarland is probably the most skillful modern exponent of the science, and ranking close to him are Mike Gibbons, Freddy Welsh, Willie Ritchie and Johnny Kilbane.

But not to waste any more space than necessary and as evidence that present day boxers do not class with the old-timers in point of skill, I will submit the names of a few stars of ten to twenty years ago in support of my argument.

In the ranks of the heavies there were Peter Jackson, one of the greatest boxers who ever pulled on a glove, Bob Fitzsimmons and Kid McCoy. In the lighter divisions, Tommy Ryan, Joe Walcott, Jack McAliffe, Young Griff, Frank Erne, Joe Gans and George Dixon were stars that in brilliancy of performance and boxing skill have very few, if any, equals at the present time.

There is not one really clever boxer among the heavyweights of to day, with the possible exception of Bomber Wells and he apparently lacks the stamina to ever become champion. I do not except Johnson, Langford or Jeannette. The present title holder is my idea of the poorest specimen that ever sat on the throne of pugilism. Langford and Jeannette nette are not skillful boxers, and have acquired reputations by beating second raters. The McCarty's Willards and Palzers are jokes and would not have attained the slightest degree of prominence ten years ago. Is there a boxer in the ranks of the middle-weights who classes with the Tommy Ryan of ten years ago? And where are the good welters of today? Mike Gibbons appears to dominate this class. Among the light-weights we have McFarland, Ritchie and Welsh, and of the trio only McFarland has ever shown skill that suggests he would have made a fitting opponent for Gans or Erne had he been contemporary with those great artists.

Among the little fellows there are no George Dixons. At that there is a greater percentage of good boxers among the feathers than in any other division. Under this classification we can include Jem Driscoll, and he is practically a veteran, Kilbane and Jimmy Walsh, of Boston, who is a great boxer and has never been given the credit his record calls for. Walsh has, unfortunately for him, been forced to battle heavier men, his best fighting weight being in the neighborhood of 118 pounds, which is just between and between the bantams and the feathers.

Comparisons of past performances with present day achievements do not always prove a case one way or the other, but as sort of connecting link between the two generations, I believe I am qualified to judge of the quality of the modern crop of boxers as well as that of the former stars of the ring. From a standpoint of boxing skill, the science of attack and defense, I do not hesitate to say that the game has deteriorated great deal.

"Kid" Williams, the Baltimore bantam, demonstrated in the recent encounter with Eddie Campi that he is entitled to a match with Johnny Coulon for the championship. The latter boxer, to judge from Williams' performance against Campi, will have his work cut out to retain the title.

Williams has issued a formal challenge to the bantam champion and Tom McCarey has offered to stage the bout. Coulon has not as yet accepted the terms offered, and appears in no great hurry to try conclusions with the "Kid." When the boys boxed in New York last summer the champion was plainly worsted and probably figures his chances to win would not be greater in a longer match. Williams is a wonderfully tough youngster and has endurance to burn. Coulon may have it on him in boxing skill, but the difference in that respect is not very great, and the "Kid" is constantly improving while Johnny's recent work indicated he had already hit the back trail.

Luther McCarty is being subjected to severe criticism for backing out of the match with Bomber Wells. The Garden A. C. offered Luther $10,000 to box Wells a ten round no-decision contest, but the very liberal offer was refused.

Fighters are certainly coming high these days. It used to be that a champion could occasionally dictate terms, but now everybody's doing it. Anyway, according to Billy Gibson, the local matchmaker, this particular fighter comes too high for him, and he has passed the "white heavyweight champion" up for the present. Gumbo Smith gets the Wells match instead.

McCarty's action is not calculated to inspire public confidence in him. According to the "dope" he should have little trouble in beating the Englishman. The Bomber was beaten by Palzer, who in turn was stopped by McCarty. But evidently Luther does not figure that way and from his refusal of Gibson's offer it looks as if he is not quite so confident of his ability to trim Wells as he professes.

THE TEMPERATURES.

The temperatures for Saturday, according to G. H. Hall, weather observer at Alexander, were: maximum 53, minimum 25.

CHATS WITH GREAT MEN OF THE CIVIL WAR

JOHN HAY

At the Centennial Exposition I was taking my sisters and my son to see the great picture "The Siege of Paris." We stopped below to look at another picture, "The Shooting of the Archbishop," which was in charge of Frenchman and a German. So impress upon the minds of the young people the scenes of the picture I repeated a little poem I had read, beginning:

"A squad of regular infantry
In the Commune's closing days,
Had captured a band of rebels
By the walls of Pere la Chaise.
There were desperate men, wild women,
And dark-eyed Amazon girls,
And one little boy with peach-down cheek
And yellow clustering curls."

When I had finished the Frenchman was so pleased with the poem that he asked me where he could get it. Not remembering the author, I wrote it for him, which so excited his gratitude that he insisted upon offering me the hospitality of the place, giving me a car of admittance which read:

"The lady who present this and all the peoples she bring, admit."

I thanked him without any thought of accepting his generosity. But several days afterward I sought shelter there from a terrible storm and heard the German repeating the lines in his guttural voice and burly accent of his race:

"Und von leetle boy mit peach-down sheek Und yellow glusterling gurlz."

At a dinner in Washington at the home of Senator Pendleton of Ohio, I was requested to relate this little episode, and repeat the poem. As I recited the last line a gentleman diagonally opposite, a well known diplomat, distinguished for courtesy and a stickler for all the little conveniences of social life, surprised me by taking the center rose from a bouquet, kissing it and bowing, and throwing it across the table to me. After the dinner he came up and said:

"And you are George Pickett's wife?"

"Yes."

"Gen. George E. Pickett's wife?"

"Yes, sir."

"I knew Gen. Pickett in Springfield when I was a boy about so high."

"Why," I said in surprise, "you seem so young; almost young enough to be my son."

"And yet I was Mr. Lincoln's private secretary during the war,

I hereby announce myself as candidate for commissioner of Road District No. 6th at election March 4th.

Herman Burmeister,

WISCONSIN MAN SUGGESTS WAY TO REDUCE LIVING COST

Believes Relief Will Come Through Co-operation of Producers—Marketing Conditions Must be Improved.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 22.—President Charles R. Van Hise, of the University of Wisconsin, today gave out a plan for reducing the high cost of living, which he suggests as a working basis for the First National Conference on Marketing and Farm Credits, called in Chicago, April 8.

President Van Hise offers co-operation as the solution, and says:

"The question of prices for commodities to the producer and to the consumer is a fundamental one, not only to those engaged in industry but to the farmer. The recent attempts to remedy the defects in the present system have been by disintegration of the so-called trusts. A number have been dissolved or reorganized. President-elect Wilson has declared that the small manufacturers, if they dared to voice their opinions, would express great dissatisfaction with the present situation. This does not seem to me to be the basal question; but rather that already indicated—the prices which the consumers are obliged to pay. I know of no instance of a standard article produced by a trust in which the price has been decreased because of the disintegration of such a trust. This being the situation, it is hard to see what advantage the third Illinois district."

Mr. Lincoln was surprised to learn that Gen. Pickett had resigned his commission in the United States army," said Mr. Hay, "as he could have remained at his post in the territory which had saved to his country, and would not have been forced to fight against his people."

I gave Mr. Hay the reason for my soldier's action and described his perilous journey home, in which Mr. Hay was deeply interested.

"Mr. Lincoln thought that George Pickett would remain under the old flag loving it as a boy and being such a stickler for the union, his uncle being a union man, as was also his almost godfather and devoted friend, Mr. Browning.

Do you know, by the way, that dear Mrs. Browning has become an inmate of the home which she founded and endowed when she was wealthy?"

"I wonder that Illinois and her friends would have permitted such a thing," said I.

"It could not be helped," replied Mr. Hay. "She would not accept private gifts, but felt that in the institution founded by her she was merely collecting interest on her money."

Speaking of the poem I had recited he said:

"The German version of it sounded so beautiful I almost wished I had written it in that way, but your recollection of the original lines gave them such an added beauty that I am satisfied with them."

"You wrote it?" I asked.

"Yes," he replied. "Now, there are two surprises—I have one in learning you are Mrs. Pickett, and you have one in finding that I am the author of the lines. By reciting my version you have double-knotted the tie of friendship I had with the general, and with you as his wife."

The great secretary remained my friend, and when "Pickett and His Men" was published, he wrote to me these words:

"I have read your wonderful and beautiful story. I notice that the first chapter of the book begins with the name of my friend, Abraham Lincoln, and that the last chapter of the book begins with 'Abraham Lincoln.' I thank you."

INVESTIGATIONS REGARDING COMPETITORS RECEIVED BY THE FARMERS AND PAID BY THE CONSUMERS SHOW HOW GREAT IS THE MARGIN IN THE TRANSFER FROM ONE TO THE OTHER. THIS IS ESPECIALLY TRUE FOR PERISHABLE GOODS.

IMPERFECT MARKETING CONDITIONS.

"The wastes which result from the present imperfect system of marketing are very well illustrated by the frequent inability of fruit-growers to sell products for which consumers would gladly give a reasonable price. The producer loses in not being able to market his crop at a fair price; the transportation companies lose because they do not handle the business; the consumer loses because he is not able to secure fruit at a reasonable price. Frequently from the south there comes into the northern cities a supply of melons or vegetables which cannot be disposed of at the current high prices which the middlemen ask. In such cases it sometimes happens that the prices are held up and the commodities allowed to rot, whereas they could have readily been sold at lower prices. In consequence the producer is unable to realize on his product."

and the consumer is unable to enjoy it; all because of an inadequate marketing system.

"But even for stable commodities, illustrated by cheese, the cost of marketing is excessive. There has been very great progress in recent years in increasing the wealth of the farmer through increasing the productivity of the soil. The farmers must now also gain not only by further increasing the productivity of the soil but by securing a fair price through co-operation. At the same time the co-operation must be of a kind which will not result in exorbitant prices to the consumer. If co-operation is permitted to develop on a large scale, it is certain that it will be necessary to have some public control in order also to protect the consumer. Co-operation means efficiency. Efficiency means the elimination of a large part of the excessive cost and waste in marketing. The increased efficiency must be made advantageous both to producer and to consumer."

MUST DEVISE NEW METHODS.

"It is clear that it is imperatively necessary for the producers, those interested in transportation, and the consumers to devise co-operative methods through which the desirable results indicated shall be attained; namely, fair prices to the producer, reasonable remuneration to the transportation companies, and elimination of unreasonable prices to the consumers.

"Because of the great importance of securing the above ends, I am very glad indeed to learn that a national conference upon marketing and farm credits has been called to meet in Chicago early in April of this year."

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM.

George W. Koon, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began to use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up dressed herself and walked out for breakfast." Sold by L. P. Allcott, druggist.

WHOLESALE ONLY.

The announcement has been made that the policy of the Mississippi River Power company is to sell its product from its giant generators and mammoth power house to large distributing points in a wholesale way and it is not in retail business. Also that while it will welcome incoming transmission lines built by others as a part of genuine electric propositions, it has no plans at present for building any new transmission lines in addition to the big lines nearly finished from the dam to Burlington on the north and to St. Louis on the south.

MR. BRENNAN HAS FIGURES ABOUT LIGHT PLANT EXPENSE

Shows That Cost of Each Arc Lamp For Year 1912 was $34.70.

J. F. Brennan, who as a city commissioner of Jacksonville has charge the water and light departments has been doing some figuring on the cost of maintaining the municipal electric plant. He has gone over the records with great care and has taken into consideration all the running expenses of the plant for the year 1912 and the various amounts total $3,745.99. The number of arc lights maintained by this expense is 287 which makes the average cost of each light $30.47. The figures given do not include any cost of deterioration but even if there had been included the total would show that the light plant expenses have been held down to a very low figure. Mr. Brennan's detailed figures are as follows:

Salaries	$4,346.28
Cost	2,561.78
Engine Oil	62.63
Cylinder Oil	41.75
Cotton Waste	27.25
Boiler Compound	41.92
Carbons	884.25
Arc Chains	41.63
Livery	27.00
Freight	40.43
Insurance	99.13
Sundries	315.29
Dynamo Repairs	257.62
Total	$8,745.99

THAT TIRED FEELING

Suggests Grandmother's Remedy. It's true, the season is here with its sudden changes, and the old idea that we need a blood medicine is not without reason. Too much heavy food has caused a torpid liver, sluggish blood, and a weak, tired-out feeling.

Sulphur, cream of tartar and molasses was grandmother's remedy but that has long ago been displaced by Vinol, a combination of the two most world famed tonics, namely, the medicinal curative elements of the cod's liver without oil, and iron for the blood.

Vinol builds you up, makes you eat more and digest better, makes your blood rich and pure—puts healthy color in your cheeks.

P. O. Barker of Bowen's Mill, Ga., says: "When I was badly run down last spring I took Vinol in an effort to regain my health and strength and it did not disappoint me. It made me feel as well as ever. We guarantee Vinol to satisfy you and refund your money if it does not. Lee P. Allcott, Druggist, Jacksonville, III.

RYAN TO PRESIDE.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 22.—Many delegates are arriving in Indianapolis for the opening on Monday of the annual convention of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' union. The convention was to have been held in Milwaukee last fall, but was postponed because of the trial of many of its officers and members in the dynamite conspiracy case. At the convention questions arising out of the conviction of the leaders will be considered. The sessions will be presided over by President Frank M. Ryan, who has been released on bonds pending an appeal of his case.

BRANDEGE READS WASHINGTON'S FAREWELL

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—The one hundred and eighty-first anniversary of the birth of Washington was observed in the capital today in the customary manner. Flags were displayed in profusion and many meetings of patriotic societies were held in commemoration of the day. In the senate Senator Brandegee of Connecticut read Washington's farewell address to a throng which tested the capacity of galleries. All the executive departments of the government were closed for the day.

INSULAR FAIR IN PORTO RICO.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Feb. 22.—The prosperity of Porto Rico and the gratifying growth experienced by her manufacturers and export trade the past few years are reflected in the wealth of exhibits displayed at the third insular fair, which was opened in San Juan today and will be continued through the coming week. In addition to the exhibits the fair management has provided a long list of free attractions, including baseball games, trotting races and automobile races.

have produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, more than thirty years ago, gave to womankind a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

One of Best Portraits of George Washington, Two Scenes of His Life and His Final Resting Place.

The historic places in which George Washington passed part of his life and the tomb which is his final resting place have been preserved with great care through the years. As the anniversary of the great man's birth comes each year those who revere his memory and journey to the scenes of his life find them just as they were a hundred years ago. The old home where the first part of Washington's career was spent is probably of greatest interest. The home at Mount Vernon, from which he conducted his biggest public work, likewise is a famous landmark. The above group shows (1) the old homestead, (2) a portrait of Washington, (3) the tomb and (4) Mount Vernon.

LETTER FROM LONDON.
(By Associated Press.)

Denmark has had no national holidays since the custom of observing June 15, the anniversary of the appearance of the Danish flag at the battle of Reval, celebrated as a national holiday.

London, Feb. 22.—The British scholastic world is stirred to its depths by an agitation over the affairs of the University of Bristol which arises from the enterprising action of the members of the university council in complimenting themselves by the bestowal of honorary scholastic degrees upon them-selves.

The council thought it befitting to celebrate a recent anniversary by the distribution of honors to numerous eminent men. This proposal met with the approval of the university. Lord Roberts, sundry bishops and other celebrities were invited to the university to receive their diplomas and the occasion was made a red-letter day in the annals of the quiet provincial city. Some sixty degrees altogether were conferred, and there was great enthusiasm over the appearance of England's foremost soldier, but the enthusiasm failed to maintain itself at fever heat when it developed that about half of the honors were being distributed to members of the body which was bestowing them in the name of the university.

Most of these gentlemen were prosperous merchants and manufacturers, but the majority were trained with the suspicion of lacking such scholastic attainments, as would qualify them to write master of arts or doctor of laws after their names. Hitherto all British universities have been very conservative in granting honorary degrees. The possession of such a distinction was a reward for real work; scholarly, professional or scientific.

Dick Nelson, the Swedish-American fighter, is teaching the royalty and nobility of Denmark the many art of self defense, according to despatches received from Copenhagen. His favorite pupils are Prince Aage, cousin of the king and Lieutenant in the royal lifeguards, and his friend, Count Siegfried Rahden-Levetzau, a son of the late minister of foreign affairs. The count is married to a beautiful American girl, who was Miss Moulton, of Boston.

Nelson says that the prince and the count are the best pupils he ever had. They are making splendid headway and at the present rate they will become champions in their class. It is probable that they will soon don the gloves at public charity entertainments.

Wahl was the youngest of eighteen children and between the birth of his father and his own death there was a period of 153 years. His father, who was born in 1759, married twice, the editor being the youngest child of the second marriage. The aged editor was younger than any of his nephews.

WILL WORK FOR EQUAL SUFFRAGE IN STATE OF ILLINOIS

Constitution Outlined For Organization to Assist in Getting Votes For Women.

Mention was made recently of the Jacksonville branch of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association and the election of officers. The constitution adopted is as follows:

Article I—Name.

This association shall be known as the Jacksonville branch of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association, auxiliary to the Illinois Equal Suffrage association, and through that to the National Woman Suffrage association.

Article II—Object.

Its object shall be to advance the industrial, legal and educational rights of women, and to secure suffrage to them by appropriate state and national legislation.

Article III—Membership.

Any person may become a member of this association by paying the sum of fifty cents annually into the treasury, of which twenty-five cents shall go into the state association. This must be paid before the annual meeting in September. No distinction on account of sex shall be made in membership or eligibility to office in the association.

Article IV—Officers.

The officers of the association shall be a president, vice-president, recording and corresponding secretary, a treasurer and auditor. These general officers shall constitute an executive committee.

Article V—Duties of Officers.

The duties of these officers shall be such as usually pertain to these offices.

Article VI—Meetings.

The regular meetings of the association shall be held every Monday. Public meetings shall be held as often as the interest of the work demands.

Article VII—Amendments.

This constitution may be amended at a regular meeting of the association by a two-thirds vote of the members present, notice having been given at the previous regular meeting.

Note, Article I.—The local name may be chosen by the members. Many names are in use from which an acceptable one can easily be selected. Woman Suffrage association, Equal Suffrage association, Equal Rights association, Political Equality league, Good Government league, Civic association, etc.

Note, Article IV—Honorary vice-presidents may be added in any number desired. It is sometimes helpful to connect the names of prominent people with the work of the club in this manner. The offices of corresponding and recording secretary may be combined when desired.

Note, Article VII—Amendments. By-laws may be added at the discretion of members.

Notes.

Each local club may determine the amount of its own membership dues. Fifty cents is the usual fee. Twenty-five cents of this sum is sent to the state treasurer, who retains fifteen cents and sends the remaining ten cents to the national treasurer.

Do you intend to continue laboring, burning valuable fuel and destroying high priced food with that old worn-out cook stove?

You know that old stove eats up a lot of fuel each year.

You know you have trouble in getting it to bake just right, in fact, spoil a batch of bread every once in a while—you know it costs considerable for yearly repairs.

Stop and think and figure.

Wouldn't it pay you to buy a good range—a range with a reputation?

We have a list of 870 satisfied users of Majestic Ranges. List furnished on request.

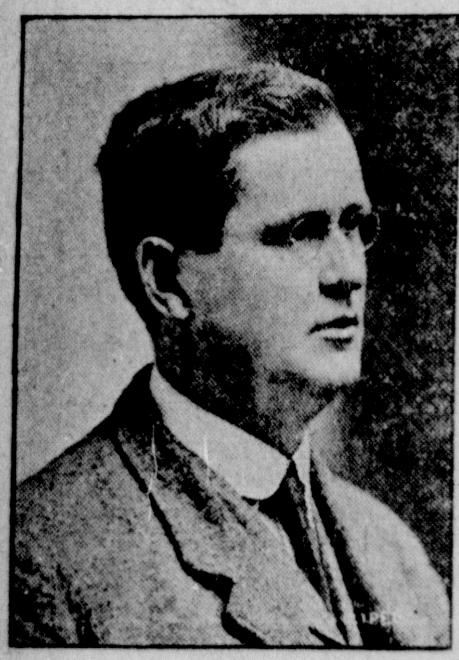

The Great Majestic Malleable and Charcoal Iron Range?

You make no mistake in buying the GREAT MAJESTIC—it's the range with THE REPUTATION—ask your neighbors. Then too, it's made just right and of the right kind of material—MALLEABLE AND CHARCOAL IRON—riveted together practically air tight—lined with pure asbestos board—parts being malleable can't break—has a moveable reservoir and an oven that don't warp—that's why the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel, bakes just right every day in the year (browns bread just right all over without turning) heats 15 gallons of water while breakfast is cooking—properly handled lasts a lifetime and costs practically nothing for repairs.

Don't buy the range you expect to last a lifetime "unseen unseen;" you'll be sure to be disappointed. Come to our store during demonstration week, see the GREAT MAJESTIC—have its many exclusive features explained—find out why the MAJESTIC is 300 per cent stronger than other ranges where most ranges are weak.

Don't Overlook the Date. This is a Special Invitation to You and Your Friends and Neighbors.

JAMES F. CAREY

LECTURE AT SOCIALIST HALL MONDAY NIGHT

First Speaker in Course Will Be James F. Carey.

The Socialists of Jacksonville have arranged a series of five lectures to be given on Monday nights beginning tomorrow night, Feb. 24th. The speaker will be James F. Carey of East Surrey, Maine. Recently when Mr. Carey was asked how he became a Socialist, he replied:

"The experience I have had as a working man, and a careful study of industrial economic, and social facts compelled me to believe in Socialism."

"With a change in human nature is necessary to make a success of Socialism" he was asked.

Scientific students inform us that there have been no essential changes in human nature for twenty thousand years," he replied. "Our many essential changes in industrial and governmental life have taken place within that period. The great necessities of life can be much more amply provided by co-operation and that is what the Socialists are aiming to secure. Human nature may be selfish, but it demands opportunity for a healthy and decent life, and it is not necessary that the many should live in poverty and vice, in order that the few may live in luxury. Socialism does not seek an equality which nature has not given but it demands that all should be able to live decently and happily. It appeals to the demand that all make for normal, just, and healthy conditions, for even the most unskilled laborer. The laborer can appreciate comfort and decency as well as the millionaire and aristocrat."

DON'T FAIL TO ATTEND.

A small admission fee will be charged.

THE REAL TEST

Herpicide Is Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to determine the efficiency of any article that is by its ability to do what it is intended to do. Many herbs may look nice and smell nice at the point is—do they eradicate Dan? If and stop falling hair? If they do not, but Herpicide does, then it goes to the root of the evil. Kill the germ that attacks the skin from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newhro's Herpicide stands the "test of use." It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

It's leading drugists. Send 10c in money for sample to The Herpicide Co., 200 Michigan.

You Marvel How Worst Skin Erptions Disappear as Result of Famous Remedy.

If you have been fighting some blood trouble, some eruptive skin disease, call it eczema, lupus, psoriasis, malaria, scrofula or what you will, there is but one sure safe way to cure it—use any drug store for a $1.00 bottle of S. S. S. and you are then on the road to health. The action of this remarkable remedy is just as direct, just as positive, just as certain in its influence as that the sun rises in the east. It is one of those rare medical forces which act in the blood with the same degree of certainty that is found in all natural tendencies. The manner in which it dominates and controls the mysterious transference of rich, red, pure arterial blood for the diseased venous blood is marvelous.

Our through every skin pore acids, germs and other blood impurities are forced in the form of invisible poisons. The lungs breathe it out, the liver is stimulated to consume a great proportion of impurities, the stomach and intestines cease to convey into the blood stream the catarrhal, malarial germs; the bowels, kidneys, bladder and all emunctories of the body are marshalled into a fighting force to expel every vestige of eruptive disease.

There is scarcely a community anywhere but what has its living example of the wonderful curative effects of S. S. S. Another brother to this famous remedy today, and it is your own, is John Born or peculiar write to The Swift Specialty Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Their medical laboratory is famous and is conducted by renowned experts in blood and skin diseases.

WILL HOLD CELEBRATION IN AMERICA'S FIRST DIOCESE

Commemoration of Catholic Church Be Observed in Porto Rico.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Feb. 22.—Princes of the church, archbishops, bishops, "monsignori," dignitaries by the score and hundreds of priests are in San Juan ready to take part in the week's celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of the creation of the Roman Catholic church of Porto Rico. The diocese is the oldest in the Americas and was erected by Pope Julius II in 1511.

Bishop Alonso Manso, the first bishop to reach the new world, arrived in Porto Rico in 1513. He died in 1539 and his body was buried in the cathedral in San Juan, where the bodies of many of the fifty bishops of the diocese have been deposited.

This cathedral marks the site of the mother church in the Americas. While much of the present building of modern parts of it date back to the very beginning of the seventeenth century.

The final details of the programme for the four hundredth anniversary celebration was completed to day.

The celebration is to be conducted on a scale of a great pomp and magnificence.

The Roman Catholic church in the old world as well as the new will be represented. The church in Spain has sent as her representative Cardinal Alvarez of Seville.

From the United States has come a highly distinguished delegation of prelates, headed by Cardinal Farley of New York and Archbishop Blenk of New Orleans. Others in the party included Bishop Gunn of Natchez, Miss.,

and Bishop Norris of Little Rock.

Archbishop Bernada of Santiago and

Bishop Estrada of Havana are at the head of a large party of Cuban churchmen here for the celebration.

From Mexico and from the various countries of Central and South America also have come distinguished representatives of the church to take part in the commemoration exercises.

Cardinal Farley will be the central

celebration will be ushered in tomorrow morning. One thousand persons will compose the procession, which will move around the historic cathedral before taking part in the solemn service, at which will be read blessing from Pope Pius X.

Cardinal Farley as celebrant, will have precedence over all the visiting prelates at the mass, and will alone bear the crozier. His eminence will be seated on a small platform covered with cloth of gold, and will also Cardinal Alvarez of Seville. The head of the diocese has relinquished the throne to Cardinal Farley and a special throne has been erected for the Spanish prelate. The cardinals and archbishops will be attended by deacons of honor.

Following the pontifical high mass

there will be other religious services during the week, but the greater portion of the programme will be devoted to literary exercises and to various functions to be given under the auspices of the religious and educational organizations connected with the church in Porto Rico.

Archbishop Blenk of New Orleans, who won wide popularity here during the several years that he served as Bishop of Porto Rico, has met with a most enthusiastic welcome on his return and, with Cardinal Farley and other visiting American prelates, is the recipient of many attentions.

On Monday, next, the archbishop of New Orleans is to officiate at a special service, when the body of Ponce de Leon, the first governor of Porto Rico and remembered by every American schoolboy for his reputed quest of the fabled fountain of youth, will be placed in a crypt in an elaborate monument that has been erected in the cathedral in his memory.

MURPHY-WOLGAST BATTLE ENDS IN DRAW

FIERCE FIGHTING MARKS TWENTY ROUND BOUT IN FRISCO.

Murphy Has Best of Battle For First Ten Rounds But Tires and Ex-Champion Evens Things During the Remaining Rounds.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 22.—"Harlem Tommy" Murphy of New York and former light-weight Champion Ad Wolgast fought twenty terrific rounds to a draw here this afternoon. For the first ten rounds Murphy had the best of the battle but he tired and Wolgast evened affairs by inflicting severe body punishment as the fight neared the final round.

Both men sustained considerable punishment and were weakening fast as the end drew nigh. Experts expressed the opinion that Wolgast has completely recovered from his operation of last year.

The decision was popular. Wolgast literally fought himself to the point of collapse in the grueling 20 round battle. Murphy, too, was tottering when the fight ended, but it was apparent that his reserve was greater than that of his antagonist.

AD SHOWS IMPROVEMENT.

Wolgast fought his best since his illness of two years ago, but the old time dash and stamina were lacking. A systematic application of tremendous right and left drives to the body in the final rounds enabled Wolgast to earn a division of honors.

Throughout the 20 rounds there was little idle time. Murphy took the bit in his teeth at the outset and it was not long before he had battered his opponent's face almost to a pulp.

Rapid fire right and left facets delivered at close range, seldom went amiss and when the contest was half over the Harlemiter seemed in a fair way to win.

Wolgast meanwhile was content to husband his strength although what punches he landed on Murphy's body carried greater force than those of the Harlemiter. Wolgast finally realized that his only hope lay in this direction, and from the tenth round on he devoted his attacks almost exclusively to Murphy's mid-section. Time and again after being worsted in heart-breaking thralls which all but carried the fighters outside the ring, he would strike his opponent's stomach with right and left punches, the impact of which was heard in the remotest corners of the arena.

Murphy could not escape these onslaughts although they served only to accelerate his fighting spirit. In the nineteenth round, Wolgast fighting with the ferocity of an animal at bay, landed so frequently that Murphy welcomed the sound of the bell while Wolgast smiled to his friends about the ring side as best he could with his puffed face and split lips.

LAST ROUND PIERCE.

The last round resolved itself into a question of the survival of the fittest. Science was forgotten. The fighters battled all around the ring, head to head, shoulder to shoulder and slugged away as though the fight had just commenced, with Referee Griffith frantically trying to pull them apart. Three minutes of this work found them on the verge of collapse with only the rope strands saving Wolgast from dropping to the mat from sheer exhaustion, while Murphy was eagerly watching for the timer to clang his gong.

Without hesitation Griffith raised the hands of both men aloft and the crowd cheered. Both presented a battered appearance as they were hustled to their dressing rooms.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

The final work of the Campaign for $60,000 in Jacksonville will be done this coming week. This amount must be raised by March first. All energies will be directed toward the conclusion of this great effort.

The celebration of Washington's Birthday was observed with appropriate exercises Saturday night. The grand march of the students in colonial costumes took place at the dinner hour. Following this, at seven o'clock, a most delightful program was given in Music Hall by pupils of the College of Music and of the Department of Expression. The program was arranged by Miss Beebe and Miss Parsons. Much credit is due them for the successful conclusion of the entertainment.

On Monday, February 24th, Miss Nicholson will give her recital, everyone is cordially invited to attend this.

The Junior-Senior Party will take place Saturday, March 1.

Monday, the third of March the Phi Nu Play will be given.

Miss Parsons will read: "Enoch Arden" at her recital on March 10th. Director Swarthout will furnish the music for her program. Miss Parsons has been preparing this recital for several months and there should be a large audience to hear her.

ANSWER MADE IN FLOUR BRAND CASE

W. D. CODY DENIES ALLEGATIONS OF INJUNCTION SUIT.

Sets Forth That He Sells High Class Hard Wheat Flour Under White Lily Brand—Denies That Brook Mills Have Any Preferred Right to Label.

Saturday W. D. Cody by his attorney, J. O. Priest, filed in the circuit court an answer to the injunction proceedings brought by J. H. Cain & Sons praying that he be restrained from using the "White Lily" label on flour. Mr. Cody denies the allegation of the petition that he is selling an inferior flour but states that his expenses are less than those of Cain & Sons and that he is enabled to undersell them and allegations that for this reason the injunction proceedings were started.

In his answer Mr. Cody further denies that J. H. Cain & Sons are manufacturing any hard wheat flour at the Brook Mill, and also alleges that the said J. H. Cain & Sons do not stay at the Brook Mill in the way of manufacturing hard wheat flour. He charges that J. H. Cain & Sons buy flour from different mills over the country, and mix it at the Brook Mill and put it into sacks and sell it as "White Lily Flour," under their guarantee as manufactured, when as a matter of truth and fact Mr. Cody alleges that their guarantee is false, and says that they do not manufacture any hard wheat flour in Jacksonville. He maintains that Cain & Sons mix this flour at their mill and sell it under the guise and false pretense of flour manufactured by them.

Brown forced the fighting in nearly every round but his open manner gave the Mexican many opportunities to punish him on the head. Punishment which would have stopped many, only seemed to act as a spur to the easterner's aggressiveness.

Brown began leading in nearly every round but his open manner gave the Mexican many opportunities to punish him on the head. Punishment which would have stopped many, only seemed to act as a spur to the easterner's aggressiveness.

Brown began leading in nearly every round. Sometimes Rivers had the better of the milling.

After taking a hard drubbing for five rounds, Brown came back strong in the eighth. A vicious rally in the last ten seconds by Rivers did not overcome Brown's lead in this round.

Both seemed tired when they came up for the tenth.

Brown sent two hard lefts to the head and a right to Rivers' stomach. Then the Mexican caught Brown on the point of the jaw as the latter ducked. Brown went spinning half way across the ring and fell heavily. Four times he arose only to be sent down again. He was "out on his feet" when the last savage swing sent him to his back in the center of the ring and the fighting was stopped.

MEXICAN DROPS BROWN IN TENTH

NEW YORKER MEETS FIRST DEFEAT AT HANDS OF JOE RIVERS.

Five Times Rivers Sent Brown to Floor With His Vicious Right in the Last Round, Three Times For the Count of Nine.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22.—A deadly right swing four times repeated the scheduled 20 round bout at Vernon today between "Knockout" Brown, the New York light-weight and Joe Rivers of Los Angeles, with victory for the Mexican before the end of the tenth round. It was the first defeat for the blonde German, whose sobriquet had been earned by the manner in which he had won scores of fights and it was decisive. Five times Rivers sent Brown to the mat with his vicious right swing in the concluding round, three times for the count of nine. The fifth time Referee Eytion stopped the fight without counting.

It was a sensational finish to a furious encounter in which Mexican and Teuton battled viciously from the opening bell. Brown's awkward style of milling due to the fact that he fights left handed was soon solved by Rivers who blocked cleverly with elbow and open glove. Brown's best blow was a left drive to the body which he used effectively.

Brown forced the fighting in nearly every round but his open manner gave the Mexican many opportunities to punish him on the head. Punishment which would have stopped many, only seemed to act as a spur to the easterner's aggressiveness.

HAVE ESTABLISHED MAIL ORDER DEPARTMENT

Mallen & Son Will Devote Special Attention to Needs of Country Residents—Can Give Better Qualities and Lower Prices Than City Mail Order Houses.

J. J. Mallen & Son have just added a mail order department to their business which gives promise of developing in an extensive way. For several months the firm has been working on the plan and recently completed all the necessary details. Five thousand sample books of wall papers have been mailed out together with complete instructions for ordering packages sent by parcel post.

The mail order department will be separate and distinct from the usual business of the firm, to the extent that none of the papers will be shown or exhibited at the store. Prospective buyers are to send in orders by mail or telephone, or of course may stop at the store with orders although no papers listed will be shown there. The booklet sent out into the country includes fifty samples varying in price from 3 to 25 cents per double roll. The papers are excellent in design and quality and the prices which are plainly printed on each sample show that Morgan county people now have the chance of buying high-class wall papers from a local firm, at prices lower than offered by the big city mail order houses. In sending an order to Mallen & Son, customers will have the satisfaction of dealing with a firm which has been in business in Jacksonville for twenty-five years and will know that exactly what is ordered will be sent without change or substitution. The firm has such an extensive stock in this department that absolute assurance can be given that there will be no disappointment when papers are ordered and that any time during 1913 papers of the same pattern can be had. The booklets have complete instructions for ordering and suggestions as to hanging paper and complete information about the cost of parcel post packages. Anyone who failed to receive a sample book by mail can secure one by notifying Mallen & Son by mail or telephone.

WOULD CURB CHICAGO DIVORCE INDUSTRY

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 22.—Plans to lessen the number of Chicago divorces, now increasing at a rate of three and a third times as fast as the population, were discussed today at a conference of the Illinois divorce commission, a self-constituted body which has undertaken to correct particularly the divorce and marriage situation in this city, where there is a petition for divorce for every six marriage applications. The conference was attended by many representatives of the clergy, women's clubs, labor bodies and other organizations interested in the welfare of the city.

DENNIS KANE.

An Old Morgan County Man in a Home for Confederates.

A party of Morgan county people recently visited Beauvoir, Miss., the last home of Jefferson Davis, after his enforced retirement from the presidency of the southern confederacy. Beauvoir is now used as a home for aged ex-confederates, supported by the state of Mississippi. There are about 250 of these old fellows and their wives as inmates and they are happy when visitors, especially from the north, call on them. The man who usually conducts visitors through the cottages and grounds is a little Irishman said to be 97 years old, but bright and chipper as a boy. When one lady of the party in answer to his query told him she was from Jacksonville, Ill., the old fellow jumped to his feet promptly—"What! In Morgan county? my old home?" Then began a string of questions regarding old time people and places that kept the visitors busy in answering. He explained that he came to this country, a young man in the early '50's, landing at Griegsville, landing on the Illinois river and drifting into the country about where Riggston is now located, where he worked for years for John Coutas one of our brothers that then lived in that section. "Everybody there knew Dennis Kane," he said. Tiring of farm work, Kane found employment on the river. Innumerable were the questions he was asked. Morgan City, he thought should be quite a large place by this time, 55 years, and Lynvillie was the scene of many a good time in his day there. The prospect of "a bit of a row" appealed to him at the out break of the civil war, when he happened to be in Memphis, Tenn., and he promptly enlisted in the rebel army, serving to the close of the war. The visitors were probably as much surprised as was Dennis Kane, in finding an old Morgan county man, an inmate of a home for ex-rebels, but Dennis kept them busy for an hour or more in telling of his experiences in his old home and in the south. He is most certainly a remarkable man to be as active and bright at his great age, a total abstainer, never used tobacco, and according to the report of the superintendent of the home, an exemplary man with a good record of service in the south. But, he says, he has a great hunger for his old home in Illinois. Is there anyone now living in the west part of this county or in Scott who remembers Dennis Kane?

ON VARIED THEMES.

Several Murrayville citizens who were in Jacksonville Saturday were talking about the plan of establishing a township high school there. The school directors of Murrayville are J. E. Osborne, John Warcup and Date Dawson. If fifty people down in that locality petition Supt. Montgomery to call an election to vote upon the question it then becomes his duty to do so. Under the law passed in 1911 residents of any particular territory may vote upon a question and the decision rests upon the majority within the boundaries of such territory. If Murrayville and residents in that locality were to vote in favor of high school then a board of education would be chosen and the members of this board would arrange further details. It would be possible to locate a new building or to arrange for leasing quarters.

Moody.

Under the law just mentioned a whole county can vote on the question of a township high school if fifty people join in a petition asking for such election. In such a case the high school would be supported by general taxation throughout the entire county. The experience with township high schools has been that they have not been very successful except where located in cities of some size. Probably the best of such schools is at Joliet where there are thirty-five teachers and a vast amount of the best school equipment.
